HTML to WordPress

Getting your first dynamic website can be a challenge. You may already have an HTML site, but those are difficult to update and integrate. Moving to a content management system (CMS) like WordPress can be made easier by leveraging our standard set of professional themes and plugins to enable a rapid, successful conversion. Also, our videos, online training resources, and support channel ensure maintenance and updates are easy. Converting your old HTML site to our platform will allow you to bring your site to the next level.

Theme Conversion

We see this a lot. You picked a theme you liked and it isn't upgraded any longer. Maybe a custom theme was developed and the developer isn't around anymore. Then it breaks and you are left with the problems. Conversion to our theme framework can help future proof your website for a fixed price based on site size. Your current design will be maintained as much as possible during the conversion while standardizing and simplifying your site management.

Other CMS to WordPress

WordPress is by far the most widely used content management system (CMS) powering a quarter of websites. Since it has the largest developer community behind it, that means a great selection of features for your company. It also means you are not locked in to using our services, or anyone else's. Other CMS companies may require you to be tied into their services or hosted by them. Our team is experienced with moving and converting websites from many CMS systems including other open source and commercial systems. And if you ever want to move, it is easy to do so.
